

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A sample tube for injection molded with two cores in one base with an intermediate bottom forming a well for receiving the biological material. In a second stage, the bottom edge of the cylindrical wall is heated and turned inwardly to form preferably a rounded bottom of complementary contour to a stamp applied thereagainst in a thermal reforming operation.

db-